5. Presentation of NOMHE Budget

Dr. Samuel Hickson, Chair

Chair Hickson moved to the next agenda item, the NOMHE budget. Chair Hickson stated that “It is important to recognize that NOMHE seeks to operate under a balanced budget”. Also, Chair Hickson stated that it is also important to recognize that NOMHE’s budget consists of two components, 1 being from general, the other being grant funded.

Chair Hickson turned it over to Program Manager Tina Dortch to discuss the breakdown of NOMHE’s budget.

Tina Dortch thanked Mr. Chair. She asked Advisory Committee members, to remain off-camera. She indicated that the budget is required to be reported per statutes. She expressed excitement and stated that NOMHE is no longer just merely funded by general fund dollars, but that NOMHE has healthy support from grant dollars, the general fund. And it demonstrates that for the current fiscal year, NOMHE is sitting at about $139,500. The other portion of revenue that supports NOMHE’s functionality is the CDC health disparity grant. That amount is $3.1 million. Currently, both budgets are on track. The $3.1 million funds 5 additional NOMHE staff persons, as well as six work orders and sub-awards. Those sub-awards reflect relationships with external stakeholders. Two contracts are within UNR, and they involve training modules for state employees plus an initiative with the faith sector that talks about how to lift community health workers within various churches in the north and the South. This is to help with the promotion of preventative care, not just around COVID, but the development of training modules that talk about preventative options and chronic diseases that disproportionately affect minority populations. Two other grants are with you UNLV. And these contracts involve Community focused capacity-building training modules and the evaluation of the grants in general. NOMHE is the keeper of the contract. Also, there's a fifth contract with Nevada Broadcast Associates. Lastly, there is a contract that supports NOMHE's efforts within the Department of Health and Human Services. This is a contract that supports Social Entrepreneurs Incorporated (SEI), and it includes assembling related products produced by all the other funded stakeholders to comprise DEI.

Chair Hickson thanked Program Manager Dortch. Dr. Hickson opened the floor to any committee member that had questions.

No questions were asked, so Chair Hickson moved forward to the next piece of the agenda.

6. Report on NOMHE Activities, Initiatives, and Impacts

Tina Dortch, NOMHE Program Manager

Updates on NOMHE's mission-driven activities, strategic partnerships/initiatives, and status of actioning its CDC Health Disparity Grant by the Program Manager and NOMHE Staff

Tina Dortch stated that through NOMHE's CDC health disparity Grant, NOMHE was able to engage with the Nevada Broadcasters Association and a local firm to oversee the production of commercials to give communities the tools needed to either pre or debunk misinformation. She explains that pre-bunking is a form of education that allows an individual to be very proactive when it comes to identifying content that is of relevance. The minority health and equity coalition helped with the creation of these ads. Specifically, they were able to help NOMHE create a focus group opportunity to make sure that those in the commercial were inclusive and diverse. The ads also include ASL interpretation created by the executive director for the Nevada Commission for Persons Who are Deaf and or Hard of Hearing. NOMHE can give access to commercial links. Tina Dortch asked individuals to put their information in the chat if they would like access to the videos. The commercials are being transmitted via TV and radio in Northern and Southern Nevada stations and call stations. These commercials will run through the end of December of this year. NOMHE was able to negotiate that they run with equal distribution daily. Also, NOMHE was able to negotiate the potential modifications of the ads.

NOMHE attempted to show the commercial but there were issues with the audio.

Tina Dortch opened the room for questions.

Chair Hickson asked, how is NOMHE reaching remote areas that may not have access to streamlining services like radio or television to be able to access those commercials?

Tina Dortch stated that NOMHE will be distributing the links so that they can be shared with stakeholder communities. For example, Advisory Committee member Ms. Bowen asked for the links for the commercial. She could potentially then pass those links along and they can be embedded in your distributions to your advocacy groups and target populations.

Chair Hickson thanked Tina Dortch and asked if NOMHE tracking how effective these commercials are and reducing misinformation presentations and the effects on the public.

Tina Dortch stated that it is somewhat difficult and general to assess the impact of reversing disproportionately experienced. She stated that perhaps NOMHE could track and monitor viewership. Viewership does give an incomplete picture, but it does shows who are tuning in and are watching it. NOMHE can also look at how many people are clicking on the videos through the different partners' websites.

Chair Hickson asked if there were any other questions from the Advisory Committee.

Raymond Serafica had a follow-up question regarding the language in which the commercials are available. It appears as if the commercials are in Spanish. He asked if these commercials are also available in other languages besides Spanish, and English of course.

Tina Dortch stated that having a commercial in Tagalog is for consideration during the refresher of the commercial. She asked Advisory Committee members to make any suggestions for the refresher of the commercials.

Chair Hickson thanked Dr. Serafica for the questions and ask if any other member had other questions.

No other questions emerged.

Dr. Hickson invited Evelina Eytchison to present on the 2023 minority health report.

a. Presentation on the 2023 Minority Health Report

Evelina Eytchison, Chronic Disease Biostatistician – NV Department of Health and Human Services, Office of Analytics

- Tina Dortch gave recognition to NOMHE’s management data analyst Ms. Amanda Annan. She worked very closely with Ms. Eytchison to produce this report. This is a report that comes out every two years and the office feels very strongly that it's a resource that Health Equity advocates can use on a variety of levels. Tina Dortch commended the Office of Analytics for its dedication and willingness to work with NOMHE.
- Evelina Eytchison introduced herself as the chronic disease biostatistician in the Office of Analytics. She stated the following:
 - The goal of the report is to highlight existing health disparities in Nevada by race, ethnicity, and by region.
 - The report is updated bi-annually, and the data is collected from several different sources including the nation's largest phone survey, death registry system, Nevada Central cancer registry, etc.
 - This report, once it's published, it can be found under the Office of Analytics data and reports page, and it's estimated to be published in early March 2023.
 - The key finding for the year 2021, COVID-19 was the leading cause of death for Asian, Pacific Islander, Native American, Alaska Native, and Hispanic populations. The death rate for diabetes was highest among the Black non-Hispanic population at 444.8 per 100,000 population. The Black non-Hispanic population has significantly higher death rates from homicide for each year from 2017 to 2021 than any other race or ethnicity group.
 - A significantly larger portion of the bisexual population had thoughts of suicide and depression 15.4% and 52.2%, respectively. The gay and lesbian population had the lowest percentage of adults with thoughts of suicide at 1.4% followed by the straight population at 3.6%.
 - The Hispanic population had a higher prevalence than any other race group of not being able to afford healthcare 20.6%.
 - Nevada's population in the years between 2020 and 2021 decreased by 0.8%. It's the first decrease in 10 years and the population is predominantly white.
 - The leading cause of death among all races and origins was classified as diseases of the heart, with a death rate of 211.7 per 100,000 population.
 - Cancer is the second leading cause of death in Nevada and the United States. It is typically diagnosed late in life with 80.8% of cases diagnosed in Nevada. Among those ages 55 years and older.
 - Unintentional injuries among white non-Hispanic, black non-Hispanic, Native American, and Alaska natives had significantly higher accidental death rates. Asian Pacific Islander population and the Hispanic population had significantly lower death rates in that category.
 - Chronic lower respiratory disease, the white population had a slightly higher death rate in this category. The Hispanic population has the smallest percentage of adults with this type of condition.
 - Homicide rates were highest among the Black population.
 - Mortality rate from suicide was the highest among the White population.
 - Influenza and pneumonia rates were higher among the Black population and Asian Pacific Islanders.
 - Black non-Hispanic population has significantly higher rates of reported cases of HIV infection.
 - Under maternal and infant health, teen birth rates in the Black population had the highest rate.
 - Communicable diseases and vaccine-preventable disease morbidity rates were highest among the Black population.

- Majority of the population consider themselves, straight (93.9%) bisexual person (4.2%), and gay/lesbian (1.9%). This information came from Nevada's behavioral risk factor surveillance system.
- Hispanic population has the largest percentage of individuals who couldn't afford to see a doctor last year.
- American Indian and Alaska Native populations had a much higher rate of maternal mortality.
- Non-fatal opioid poisoning rates of the Black population were higher than the rates of White individuals.
- Under juvenile arrests and detentions, White individuals had the most arrests in the state than any other race or ethnicity.

Evelina Eytchison ended the presentation and asked listeners if they have any questions.

Chair Hickson thanked Ms. Eytchison, for the presentation.

Chair Hickson had a question regarding the Hispanic population.

- What comprises the Hispanic population?
- What does the report mean when it says that individuals cannot afford healthcare?
- Is it referring to individuals not being able to afford to see a doctor?
- Is it referring to individuals that have a visa?
- Is it referring to individuals that are citizens or other populations within that group?

Evelina Eytchison stated that that portion of the data comes from the nation's largest survey and it's an anonymous survey. People get the phone call, and they answer questions. That detailed data is not collected. It is unclear if individuals are undocumented aliens, or if they're citizens. The only clear thing is that they are Hispanics. The report is broken down into multiple sections White non-Hispanic, Black non-Hispanic, and Hispanic populations. There is no other information about them, whether they have documents or not.

Chair Hickson thanked Evelina Eytchison. Chair Hickson invited any other committee members to ask questions.

Amanda Annan added to Evelina's presentation regarding the leading causes of death. Although African Americans were not listed, COVID-19 was the second leading cause of death after diseases of the heart. Covid-19 did heavily impacted African Americans as well.

Chair Hickson thanked Amanda Annan for the information and invited others to ask any other questions.

Dr. Raymond Serafica asked the presenter to clarify the information about mental health issues that were presented across the population. Did that include substance abuse disorders? Or is just like, mental health? Even in terms of suicide or anxiety, depression, or any other type of mental health condition.

Evelina Eytchison stated that the information was gathered through a phone survey and people were asked whether they had any thoughts of suicide in the past 30 days. And the second question was whether they had any problems concentrating and remembering things. People responded either yes or no to that question. We don't know any other information about this.

Jen L. Thompson stated that while the minority health report does not cover it in detail, the Office of Analytics does have a massively detailed suicide dashboard that looks at race, and ethnicity. There is also a substance use dashboard that looks at race, and ethnicity, so it's covered in other areas.

b. Presentation and Discussion of the 2023 NOMHE Health Equity Action Plan (For Possible Action)

April Cruda, Program Officer II – Nevada Office of Minority Health and Equity

After hearing or seeing no other questions or comments, Chair Hickson introduced the next item on the agenda a presentation of the 2023 Health Equity Action Plan by April Cruda.

April Cruda introduced herself as Program Officer for the Nevada Office of Minority Health and Equity (NOMHE). She reported being in the last stages of the development of the NOMHE Health Equity Action Plan known as the HEAP. She stated that this will be a new resource and explained the following:

- April Cruda presented during a previous NOMHE Advisory Committee meeting.
- The overall goal of the HEAP is to serve as a resource to support organizations throughout this state to promote and support Health Equity in their work by providing policy, program, and resource recommendations that can be applied to current and future practice.
- To ensure that Nevadans have an equitable opportunity to live a healthy and full life by focusing on strengthening and supporting the organizations that offer services to them. So that would mean that the audience of the HEAP would be public service organizations that interact regularly with community members including nonprofits, CBOS, state agencies, departments, or programs providers, local health departments, etc.
- April Cruda showed a screenshot of the HEAP cover page.
- She also shared a screenshot of a sample page of the chapter on building organizational capacity to display that there are recommendations and under each recommendation, there might be a resource that provides further technical assistance, an article or toolkit that gives more detail on how one might implement a given solution.
- Rural and travel considerations are also added in addition to those recommendations. These communities face unique barriers compared to others living in Clark County or Washoe or the more urban areas of the state.
- There are additional resources and a case study so those resources can be used by readers for further technical support to implement some of those strategies outlined in the plan. The case studies offer a real-life example of how each focus area is actioned.
- Some of the recommendations focus on language access. They specifically speak about being aware of and accommodating the languages that are spoken in the communities, using linguistic services and resources to support language access, be intentional with communication by using inclusive language.
- Other recommendations are about disseminating information in accessible places and accessible formats, evaluating the effectiveness of language services, and helping increase health literacy by empowering individuals to combat misinformation and be an advocate for their health.
- Then, a tribal consideration would be to preserve and revitalize the native language by creating incentivizing opportunities to learn and become fluent and native dialects.
- These are just some examples of how recommendations can then be actioned, so one could be used registration or intake processes to understand what languages are spoken by clients. Patients are the people you serve.
- Some of these recommendations may require staff training on the class standards.
- Other important things to consider are to encourage the utilization of the resource ASL anywhere whenever possible. Developing messages and campaigns that are inclusive and accessible format and are culturally and linguistically appropriate.
- After finalizing the HEAP and of course incorporating any comments from the committee, today, the heap will then be ready to be shared publicly. NOMHE is thinking of doing a tour of presentations with the HEAP starting in March and April and into the rest of the year.

Chair Hickson displayed an excitement about this new report. Chair Hickson asked if there is a consideration for the interaction with the residentially challenged population or more commonly referred to as the homeless. Also, how providers and or the medical and health community can interact with that population?

April Cruda thanked Chair Hickson and stated that as of right now, there are no specific considerations that mentioned the homeless, but it's a great point to bring up during the development of the plan.

Chair Hickson had a second question about the sexual and gender minority community, particularly considering the specific cultural and linguistic needs that that population has. Does the Health Equity plan talk or discuss nonverbal communication patterns that need to be analyzed and assessed?

April Cruda thanked Chair Hickson for the question and stated that the HEAP does reference the LGBTQ community and how to address or interact with them. Several resources in there offer more guidance than the plan itself does.

Chair Hickson had another question, how often or what is the plan by which NOMHE would be examining the resources provided in the plan to make sure that there's still going to be active so that people don't click a link and find out that the service or tech support is no longer viable?

April Cruda stated that after doing some presentations, she will be the one to refine, revisit and revise the HEAP as well as start the process for NOMHE's strategic plan. So that is kind of an ongoing thing where NOMHE will revisit the HEAP.

Chair Hickson recognized that Tina Dortch had a question.

Tina Dortch stated that she had a statement. She commended the work of April Cruda. She said that it is always more difficult to create than it is to critique. The HEAP is a deliverable of the CDC Health Disparity grant.

Chair Hickson thanked, Ms. Dortch, for her words. Chair Hickson opened the floor to any other committee members that might have questions for Ms. Cruda.

After hearing or seeing none, Chair Hickson recognized that Doctor Crystal Lee, an Advisory Committee member, had joined.

The NOMHE played the Health Matters commercial.

Tina Dortch stated that the video participants were sourced and vetted through support from the Minority Health Coalition. There are three additional versions of the commercial that have different populations representing different kinds of perspectives that all with the intent of driving individuals to this resource so that they could then become their selves.

7. Discussion of NOMHE 2023 Biennial Report Per NRS 232.479 Summarizing 2021-2022 Activities of the Office (For Possible Action)

Tina Dortch, NOMHE Program Manager

- This is one of the statutory requirements, of Statute number 232.479.
- Tina Dortch shared that NOMHE codified the biennial report to the governor and the Director of the Legislative Council Bureau, which is required for March 1 of each odd-numbered year, and that the manager shall submit this report to the governor and the Director of the LCB for Transmission.
- To the legislature, this report outlines the way the office has accomplished its purpose during the previous two years, including, without limitation, information concerning activities, findings, and recommendations of the office as they relate to health care services for members of minority groups, and to healthcare issues of interest to those members.
- NOMHE presented the 2023 biennium report, which will be available through e-mail distribution.
- The report is comprised of 5 sections.
- The report talks about how the office has experienced growth in the last two years and that growth was predicated on a lot of grant activity. Also, it talks about the skill sets and the subject matter expertise that was brought to bear because of the new employees and service matter experts that have been either indirectly or directly working in partnering with the office. NOMHE is always and will be committed to working with those groups, and through some of the work orders and sub-awards NOMHE got projects working with faith-based organizations
- Tina Dortch commended Public Information Officer, Carlos Ramirez Gomez and his work inside Intermountain Health and some other organizations.
- The NOMHE Advisory Committee is now a nine-person Advisory Committee.
- One thing that is important to note, the office while it can function and there is a very unprecedented bandwidth, is heavily predicated on grant-funded positions, which means they could be subject to renewal or the availability of those dollars.

- Each NOMHE Advisory Committee person serves a 2-year term with the ability to review for an additional 2-year term. So, they can do a total of four years on the Advisory Committee.
- Ethnic and geographic diversity is required for the statute.
- The last parts of the report are meant to satisfy the provision of activities that have been going on with the organization with the office since the last biennium report. Several events go back to 2001.
- NOMHE has a very, very strong connection, with outdoor recreation. In November last year, Truckee Meadows connected communities with the outdoors for health and well-being.
- NOMHE was invited by the Nevada Division of Outdoor Recreation to present, and we talked about pathways to a better quality of life and possible. NOMHE and the Department of Wildlife made that presentation, and we talked about connecting communities with outdoor activities for their overall well health and well-being.
- The HEAP is to address the barriers that many communities of color face and engage with outdoor recreation. NOMHE will be going to North Nevada as well. April and her presentation will be able to get feedback from those attendees.
- Now during the annual Diversity and Inclusion Liaison (DIL) meeting, they will develop recommendations on how best to promote and improve the experience and methods to overcome barriers and ability to make sure that minority communities know that resources exist. So, during the inaugural year, which was last year, the three agencies also conducted a survey to identify across the participating departments exactly what resources they have and what are your means of service delivery.
- Senate Bill 424 provisions that NOMHE has a public health resource officer, and that the public health resource officer is working to investigate the state's public health infrastructure, specifically factoring for needs at the consumer level with an emphasis on diverse and marginalized communities. This process involves identifying service delivery gaps to deliver equity and focus systemic recommendations to the existing system and then health.

Nick Dunkle stated he identifies as a Latino and to update the information.

Tina Dortch noted Nick Dunkel's comment.

Chair Hickson asked if there were any other questions or comments. After hearing none, Chair Hickson moved to the next item on the agenda.

The purpose of BLAC is also to engage the community members in the decision-making process to improve the quality of life for Black and African American citizens in the state of Nevada.

Dr. Samuel Hickson is the chair, and his role as dictated by bylaws which have been very scant on this process is that the term of each Member of this subcommittee will not exceed more than 12 months, but they do have the opportunity for renewal as the subcommittee continues to work and to exist, that there will be approximately 2 meetings per year, but no more than three that will take place before the meeting of the Advisory Committee, so that the subcommittee may report to the Advisory Committee for recommendations and or questions on the work that they are doing. The committee is comprised of eight social constructs that work in health or social determinants of health. They will comprise 2 Members from Health and Wellness, two members from public policy, law, and government, and one representative for the remaining 6 categories. It is known that there is a disparity in the number of African American women's deaths during pregnancy and delivery, as well as an excess number of deaths. Infant mortality during the delivery process. There have been multiple studies, even by our government at the National Institute of Health to state that racism is the dominant reason for these excessive deaths. And oftentimes it is due to an increase in certain hormonal levels brought on due to the pressures of race he would like to see that considered as a topic of discussion in future meetings.
