Dear Parents (Caregivers),

When our youngest son was born prematurely on a Thanksgiving morning, 21 years ago, with a diagnosis of “something is wrong”, he was a shock to everyone, including our family. Doctors at the hospital were not sure of what to tell us. Hospital staff did not know how long he would live or what the prognosis would be. After two weeks in the Neonatal Intensive Care Unit, they sent him home when there was nothing more they could do medically. We were told that we should probably see some early interventionists. Period. No connection to any programs or agencies provided.

So we got in touch with Nevada’s Early Intervention program. It wasn’t always easy. There were many specialists involved, and many appointments to keep. Many operations to go through. There were times when little or no progress was made, and times when new problems were discovered. We were encouraged by caring service providers to keep trying and not give up. We networked with other parents who had similar experiences. With every gain we saw a brighter future -- maybe not perfect, but not so imperfect as we first believed.

Our world has changed now. As a father I often find it difficult to express my feelings. But there is one little boy in my life where I can feel my emotions constantly being pulled out. That is with my youngest son. He is doing far more than anyone expected, and has set the example for me. —

But this isn’t about me. This newsletter is for you and your family.

I work for Nevada’s IDEA Part C Office and hope to help provide you with information that will support you and your family. Please feel free to contact me anytime at my email address: ddinnell@adsd.nv.gov

Sincerely,
Dan Dinnell
